North Carolina's Eastern Region Hires PR Specialist

Kinston, NC —

North Carolina's Eastern Region (NCER) Development Commission announces the hiring of Ms. Kim Jones as the organization's new Public and Constituent Relations Specialist. The addition of the new position to the NCER staff will further the organization's efforts to broaden regional and community partnerships in its thirteen county service area. Ms. Jones is a graduate of East Carolina University. She began her duties on February 15, 2007.

NCER, headquartered in Kinston, NC, is one of the seven regions created by the NC General Assembly to promote economic development in their respective regions.
